Symposium 2000

Description

Wood is Good (2000)

Lectures given at the 2000 Marcus Wallenberg Prize Symposium held in Stockholm on October 13, 2000.

Squaring the Circle: Meeting Global Demands for Solid Wood Products

Clark. S. Binkley, Hancock Timber Resource Group, Boston, USA

Engineered Performance for Timber Construction.

Robert H. Leicester, recipient of the 2000 Marcus Wallenberg Prize, CSIRO, Highett, Australia

Eco-Balance: A new method for the ecological evaluation of wooden products

Arno FrÃ¼hwald, University of Hamburg, Germany

Timber Codes and Standards â?? Their Impact on Construction and Trade

Hans JÃ¸rgen Larsen, Danish Building Research Institute, HÃ¸rsholm, Denmark.

Advanced Wood Building Technology â?? A Challenge for the Future

Sven Thelandersson, Lund University, Lund, Sweden

Tradition and Renewal in Wooden Architecture â?? A Finnish Architectâ??s View

Georg Grotenfelt, Helsinki, Finland