

Symposium 2014

Description

Paper electronics – widening the role of paper

Lectures given at the 2014 Marcus Wallenberg Prize Symposium held in Stockholm on 23 September, 2014

Moderator: Mr. Ulf Wickbom

Welcome and Opening remarks

Mr. Henrik Ehrnrooth, Chairman of the board of Pöytäry Plc, Helsinki, Finland.
Member of the board of the Marcus Wallenberg Foundation

Introduction

Professor Nippe Hylander, Å F/KTH, Member of the prize selection committee

Electronics on paper – an overview

Professor Ronald Åsterbacka, Åbo Akademi University, Åbo, Finland

Paper electronics and electronic paper

Professor Magnus Berggren, Recipient of the 2014 Marcus Wallenberg Prize, Linköping University, Norrköping, Sweden

Natural interaction empowered by printed electronics – browsing the real world

Mr. Jan Hederö, Ericsson Radio, Linköping, Sweden

Printing sensors on flexible surfaces – opportunities for new interactivity

Professor Takao Someya, The University of Tokyo, Tokyo, Japan

A dialogue on new business opportunities for the forest-based industry

Ms. Jennifer Ernst, Thin Film Electronics ASA, San Jose, CA, USA, and Dr. Göran Gustafsson, Acreo Swedish ICT, Norrköping, Sweden

Panel discussion